

Susan Eberle Stahlfeld

Partner

☎ 206.777.7510 📍 Seattle Office

✉ susan.stahlfeld@millernash.com

📡 employmentlawinmotion.com

“When a client comes to me with a legal problem, I am committed to finding a way to solve their problem, not just tell them what they can’t do. Workplaces are complicated and I strive to help employers find solutions that they can live with and allow their business to thrive.”

Susan Stahlfeld cochairs Miller Nash’s employment law and labor relations practice group and brings more than 30 years of experience and strategic thinking to employers facing their most challenging workplace problems. Susan’s ability to clearly and pro-actively advise employers about their legal obligations, while also helping them evaluate the risks involved, makes her a valued counselor in and out of the courtroom. She regularly advises clients on a wide range of workplace issues, including discrimination, noncompetition agreements, wrongful discharge, wage and hour rules, and employment torts litigation.

Susan counsels employers across the state on the multitude of personnel issues they face day-to-day—working with them on key policies and procedures, discrete employment-related issues, and matters concerning compliance with ever-changing local, state, and federal laws. She regularly helps clients navigate regulations from the U.S. Department of Labor and the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, as well as state and local agencies. Susan also frequently provides trainings for supervisors and managers.

Leveraging her experience, Susan uses a measured, client-centric approach when helping employers evaluate the impact of fighting claims in court. She has successfully guided clients through pre-litigation negotiations, complex mediations and arbitrations, as well as numerous trials and appeals. Throughout her career, she has defended employers responding to disputes in the areas of discrimination claims, wage and hour law, joint-employment, torts, and miscellaneous statutory claims; class-actions; and appellate advocacy. She regularly appears in state and federal court on behalf of clients and is known for her steady command of complex cases and appeals.

She has worked with mid-size to large companies from many industries, including retail, sales and service, maritime, healthcare, education, tribal entities, financial services, restaurants, and transportation-related companies.

Education

J.D., University of Virginia,
Dillard Fellow, 1992

B.S., University of Alabama, summa cum laude, 1982

Bar Admissions

Washington, 1992

Court Admissions

U.S. Supreme Court, 2021

U.S. District Court, Eastern
District of Washington,
1992

U.S. District Court,
Western District of
Washington, 1992

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 1992

Susan serves as the firm’s Washington State representative with Employment Law Alliance, a national and international alliance of employment and labor attorneys. Every year since 2015, she has been named to Washington Super Lawyers’ “Top 50 Women—Washington.”

Professional Activities

- King County Bar Association
 - Labor Section, Member
- Washington State Bar Association
 - Labor and Indian Law Sections, Member
- American Bar Association
 - Labor and Employment Law Section, Member
- Employment Law Alliance, Washington State Representative
- Washington Defense Trial Lawyers Association Employment Law Committee, Member
- Federalist Society, Member

Civic Activities

- Jennifer Dunn Leadership Institute
 - Past Secretary-Treasurer
 - Past Board of Directors
- Washington Human Rights Commission Work Group, Participant
- Burien Food Drive, Volunteer
- Seattle Alumni Friends of Alabama, Member
 - Past Office

Representative Experience

Wage and Hour Class-Action Litigation

- Successfully defended retail chain through seven-week trial against wage-and-hour “joint employer” class-action claims by employees of vendor. Affirmed on appeal.
- Defended national pharmacy chain against rest and meal break class action by pharmacists, ending in positive settlement before trial.
- Represented transportation company in successfully resolving class-action claims for failure to accrue paid sick leave under Seattle and SeaTac ordinances.

Discrimination Claims

- Defended retail chain through favorably resolved claims of sexual harassment, discrimination, and retaliation.
- Defended retail chain and successfully obtained summary judgment ruling on multiple claims asserted by plaintiff, including allegations of retaliation under Washington’s Industrial Insurance Act and disability discrimination.
- Represented employer in obtaining a no probable cause finding in a claim of religious discrimination.

Terminations/Breach of Contract

- Obtained summary judgment on claims against natural resources company for breach of contract by at-will employee.
- Summary judgment granted on claims of violation of Family and Medical Leave Act and wrongful discharge in violation of public policy on claims against national retail outlet.

Compliance

- Assisted company with complicated collective bargaining agreement in crafting policies for compliance with various state mandates.
- Successfully assisted retail chain in responding to and complying with premium deduction rules under the Washington Paid Family and Medical Leave Act.

Publications

Susan frequently writes on various topics. Following is a listing of publications since 2018. A complete list is available upon request.

- “Beginning January 1, 2025, Minimum Wages Increase in Unincorporated King County,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (July 2024)
- “Coming Attractions in Washington: Changes in 2025 to Paid Sick Leave and the Equal Pay and Opportunities Act,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Apr. 2024)
- “Effective June 6, 2024, Washington Employers Face Restrictions on Communicating to Employees on “Political” or “Religious” Matters,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Apr. 2024)
- “Washington Expands Coverage of Its Noncompetition Statute to More Agreements,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Mar. 2024)
- “Bellingham Joins Other Washington Cities in Setting Its Own Higher Minimum Wage,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Mar. 2024)
- “Washington’s City of Renton Adopts Tukwila Minimum Wage Ordinance, Effective July 1, 2024,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Mar. 2024)
- “Washington Raises Its Minimum Wage to $16.28 per Hour in 2024, Cities Minimum Wage Rates Even Higher; Exempt Salary Requirements Higher,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Oct. 2023)
- “Washington Expands Grounds for “Good Cause” Resignations Allowing Employees to Collect Unemployment Benefits,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (June 2023)
- “Beginning January 2024, Washington Employers Can Get a Little More Information About an Employee’s PFML Leave,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (May 2023)
- “Effective January 2024, New Washington Law Limits Employers’ Ability to Decline to Hire People for Past Cannabis Use,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (May 2023)
- “Washington Update: With Few Exceptions, Employers May Not Search Employees’ Personal Vehicles,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (May 2023)
- “New Liability for Washington Employers if a Paycheck Bounces,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Feb. 2023)
- “Washington Update: Tukwila Passes Higher Minimum Wage and Scheduling Requirements, with Expansive Penalties and a Longer Time Period to File Claims,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Feb. 2023)
- “As Time Goes by...Pay Practices Which May Be a Surprising Risk for Employers—Part 1,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Dec. 2022)
- “DLI Issues Updated Guidance: 2023 Washington State Job Posting Requirements,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Dec. 2022)
- “Washington Court Revives Public Employee’s Religious Accommodation Claim,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Oct. 2022)
- “Comp & Benefits Info Must Be Included In Washington State Job Postings Starting January 2023,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Aug. 2022)
- “Taking Steps to Protect Confidential Information,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Aug. 2022)
- “Washington Employers Should Prepare for Historically High Increases in the Minimum Wage and Exempt Salary Requirements,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion, coauthor (July 2022)

- “Washington Update: Comp & Benefits Info Must Be in Job Postings Starting 2023,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Apr. 2022)
- “Washington PFML Update: Bereavement Leave for Death of a Newborn, Expiration of PFML CBA Exemption, and More,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Apr. 2022)
- “Washington Update: Employee Confidentiality Limitations Further Narrowed,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Mar. 2022)
- “Washington Update: Employee Use of EAP is Confidential!,” Miller Nash, Employment Law in Motion (Mar. 2022)
- “Washington’s New Statutory Wage Lien: How Wage Liens Impact Secured Creditors’ Rights,” Miller Nash, Bank Law Monitor, coauthor (Nov. 2021)
- “Washington’s New Statutory Wage Lien: How Wage Liens Are Extinguished, Released, and Contested,” Miller Nash, Bank Law Monitor, coauthor (Sept. 2021)
- “Washington’s New Statutory Wage Lien: How Wage Liens Are Established and Foreclosed,” Miller Nash, Bank Law Monitor, coauthor (Sept. 2021)
- “Washington’s New Statutory Wage Lien: Who and What Property is Impacted,” Miller Nash, Bank Law Monitor, coauthor (Aug. 2021)
- “Washington Creates New Statutory Lien for Employee Wage Claims,” Miller Nash, Bank Law Monitor, coauthor (Aug. 2021)
- “Washington Compensation Requirements—2021 Update,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Oct. 2020)
- “The ABCs of Employee Leave Related to Their Children’s Schools Implementing Distance Learning,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Aug. 2020)
- “REMINDER: New Pay Requirements—and Opportunities—Under the Washington Exempt Computer Professionals Begin July 1, 2020,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (June 2020)
- “2020 Updates to the Washington Paid Family Medical Leave Act,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (June 2020)
- “A Little of This, A Little of That...New Washington Laws Impacting Employers in 2020,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (June 2020)
- “Documentation That Employers Need to Get from Their Employees if They Want to Claim the Tax Credits for Providing E-PSL and E-FMLA Leave,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (Apr. 2020)
- “Navigating Leave Landscape Changes in the Era of COVID-19,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Mar. 2020)
- “COVID-19 FAQs for Employers,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, coauthor (Mar. 2020)
- “Salary Threshold for Exempt Employees Increases Effective January 1, 2020—Plan for More,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Sept. 2019)
- “Washington Paid Family and Medical Leave Benefits—Looking Forward to 2020,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (July 2019)
- “A Medley of Legislative Changes for Employers,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (May 2019)
- “New Washington Act Limits Noncompetition Covenants for Employees and Independent Contractors—With a Big Poison Pill Included,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (May 2019)
- “Take Two: The Department of Labor Proposes Increasing White-Collar Salary Minimums Again,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Mar. 2019)
- “Revised Equal Pay Act Adds Gender Protections,” King County Bar Association, Bar Bulletin, coauthor (Feb. 2019)
- “Strict Liability for Public Accommodation Entities When an Employee Harasses a Customer—Even if the Entity Terminates the Employee,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Feb. 2019)

- “2018 Washington Gender Equal Pay Act Amendments: Same Pay for ‘Similar’ Jobs,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use, coauthor (Apr. 2018)
- “A Potpourri of New Restrictions and Requirements for Washington Employers,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (Apr. 2018)
- “Inslee Signs ‘#MeToo’/‘#TheyKnew’ Trilogy of Bills: It Will Be Harder for WA Employers to Keep Harassment Allegations Secret,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, News You Can Use (Apr. 2018)

Presentations

Susan is a frequent speaker on various topics. Following is a listing of presentations since 2018. A complete list is available upon request.

- “Who Wants to Be Legally Astute—Federal and State Legal Updates,” Miller Nash, Employment Law Seminar (Oct. 2023)
- “Wage and Benefit Issues,” National Business Institute (May 2023)
- “Discipline and Discharge - Necessary Documentation,” National Business Institute (May 2023)
- “Pay Transparency: Employer Requirements and Proactive Strategies,” Miller Nash Employment Law in Motion webinar (Apr. 2023)
- “Workplace Ethics,” Rental Housing Association of Washington, Property Manager Webinar Series (Feb. 2023)
- “Pay Practices: Tips For the Unwary!” Washington State SHRM, Employment Law & HR Conference (March 2023)
- “The US Federal Trade Commission’s New Rule on Noncompetes,” Employment Law Alliance, Employment Matters Podcast Episode 462, guest speaker (Feb. 2023)
- “All Aboard the HR Express: A Tour of Federal, State, & Labor Legal Updates,” Miller Nash, Employment Law Seminar (Oct. 2022)
- “Legislative Impacts on HR,” Association of Washington Business, 2022 Policy Summit (Sept. 2022)
- “Protecting the Company: Non-Competes, Non-Disclosures, and Non-Solicitations,” Employment Law Alliance, webinar (Apr. 2022)
- “Travel Tuesdays: Doing Business in Washington,” Employment Law Alliance, Employment Matters Podcast Episode 382, guest speaker (Apr. 2022)
- “Workplace Ethics,” Rental Housing Association of Washington, Property Manager Webinar Series (Feb. 2022)
- “Examining the Unique Constellation of Wage & Hour Issues, Updates, and Audits,” Miller Nash, Employment Law Seminar (Dec. 2021)
- “Communicating with Employees: Who Can Say What?” Washington State SHRM, Employment Law & Human Resources Conference, pre-conference webinar (Mar. 2021)
- “Getting Up to Code and Following the New Rules: 2020 Washington Employment Law Update,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, Employment Law Seminar (Dec. 2020)
- “Fast 15: Families First Leave—Intermittent, Supplementation, and Exceptions,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, On-Demand Employment Law Webinar Series (May 2020)
- “Raising the Nautical Flag and Avoiding Rough Waters: Identifying and Managing HR Risks,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, Employment Law Seminar (Oct. 2019)
- “Introduction to Labor and Employment Law for Attorneys and HR Professionals,” The Seminar Group, 22nd Annual Labor & Employment Law Conference (Aug. 2019)
- “Using Social Media, Smartphones, and More in Employment Disputes,” National Business Institute (Nov. 2018)
- “Introduction to Labor and Employment Law for Attorneys and HR Professionals,” The Seminar Group, 22nd Annual Labor & Employment Law Conference (Aug. 2019)
- “Whodunit? The Mystery of Gig Economy Classification,” Miller Nash Graham & Dunn, Employment Law Seminar (Oct. 2018)

- “Sexual Harassment in the #MeToo Era,” The Seminar Group, 21st Annual Labor & Employment Law Conference (Aug. 2018)

Recognition & Honors

- Selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® (Seattle, WA)
 - Employment Law—Management, 2012-present
 - Litigation—Labor and Employment, 2013-present
- Selected for inclusion as a Washington Super Lawyer, 2009-present
 - Top 50 Women Washington Super Lawyers, 2015-2022
 - Top 100 Washington Super Lawyers, 2022
- Rated AV® Preeminent™ by Martindale-Hubbell®