“I enjoy using my transactional experience to help guide businesses through dense regulatory frameworks to achieve their goals. I am attentive, detail oriented, and value every chance to connect with clients.”

Blakely Vogel focuses his practice on representing businesses and individuals in transactional and regulatory matters. He assists companies with entity selection and formation, and drafting and reviewing various corporate documents essential to the proper functioning of any business. Blakely has experience guiding start-ups from formation through funding, and has advised on regulatory compliance for post-funding operations.

During law school, Blakely gained valuable insights serving as a legal extern for the Honorable Judge Steven Berlin and assisted California wineries of all sizes with state and federal alcohol regulatory compliance as a legal intern at the Wine Institute.
