

Ashley M. Langley

Associate

☎ 206.777.7584 📍 Seattle Office
 ✉ ashley.langley@millernash.com

“My approach to client service is focused on efficiency, collaboration, and zealous advocacy. As a litigator, I prioritize understanding my clients’ unique needs, working closely with them and industry experts to resolve complex issues with strategic, tailored solutions.”

Ashley Langley is an associate on the firm’s litigation team. Ashley focuses her practice on complex commercial litigation with significant experience in negotiations, motions practice, mediation, and trials in state and federal courts. She has successfully represented clients in disputes related to contracts, construction, education, employment, insurance, premises liability, transportation, and real estate. Additionally, she has counseled and defended professionals—e.g., accountants, dentists, and attorneys—in professional liability matters and disciplinary proceedings.

Prior to joining Miller Nash, Ashley worked as a litigator with a Pacific Northwest law firm representing local and multinational clients with a focus on civil business and commercial litigation. Before transitioning to private practice, Ashley spent three years working as a county prosecuting attorney, representing the State of Washington in criminal hearings, motions, and trials.

Professional Activities

- Washington Women Lawyers, King County Chapter
 - President-Elect, 2025-present
 - Civic Affairs Chair, 2022-present
 - Continuing Legal Education (CLE) Chair, 2022-2024
- King County Bar Association, Member
- Law 360’s Washington Editorial Board
 - Member, 2025-present
- Legal Foundation of Washington
 - Associates’ Campaign for Equal Justice, Co-chair, 2024
 - Associates’ Campaign for Equal Justice, Co-lead, 2023 & 2025
- Washington State Bar Association, Member
- American Bar Association, Member
- Defense Research Institute, Member
- Order of Barristers, Member

Education

- J.D., Seattle University School of Law, 2018
 - Access to Justice Institute, First-Year Fellow and Leadership Council
 - Incarcerated Mothers Advocacy Project, Volunteer
 - Moot Court Board, Treasurer
 - Law Review, Notes & Comments Editor
 - Women’s Law Caucus, Member
- B.A., University of Washington, psychology and law and societies & justice, 2016

Bar Admissions

Washington, 2018

Court Admissions

U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington

Civic Activities

- Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Foundation, Innovator’s Network, Member, 2023-present

Representative Experience

- Advocated for an American multinational retail corporation in federal and state court proceedings in Washington, including as second chair in a federal trial.*
- Conducted a workplace investigation for a nonprofit organization following an employee’s allegations of discrimination and retaliation.*
- Achieved summary judgment for a small business client on all filed causes of action, including breach of contract, intentional misrepresentation and fraudulent concealment, negligent misrepresentation, violation of the Consumer Protection Act (CPA), breach of implied duty of good faith and fair dealing, trespass, and breach of implied warranties.*

*Prior to joining Miller Nash

Presentations

- “Discovery Rule Updates,” Miller Nash (Mar. 2025)

Recognition & Honors

- “Next Generation in Law” Honoree, Puget Sound Business Journal, 2024
- Washington State Law Scholars, Seattle University Scholarship Recipient, 2015-2018
- Outstanding Service Award, Seattle University, 2018

Personal Activities

Born and raised in Washington, Ashley grew up in the great outdoors. When she is not in the courtroom or at the office, she can often be found exploring the outdoor beauty of the Pacific Northwest, taking full advantage of everything the region has to offer. While in college, Ashley raced competitively for the University of Washington’s Husky Ski Team. Today, she continues to enjoy skiing with family and friends, hitting mountain slopes across the Pacific Northwest and beyond.